

California Rice

Shorebird Sanctuary

Killdeer

California ricelands provide essential habitat to Killdeer and millions of other shorebirds.

The Manomet Center for Conservation Science has designated California ricelands as a Shorebird Site of International Significance, one of the largest of its kind in North America. All told, our fields are used by 230 wildlife species, including seven million wintering ducks and geese in the Sacramento Valley. Supporting California rice will help ensure that these environmental benefits continue.

To learn more, visit www.calrice.org/wildlife

